

Hands-on training that everyone will love

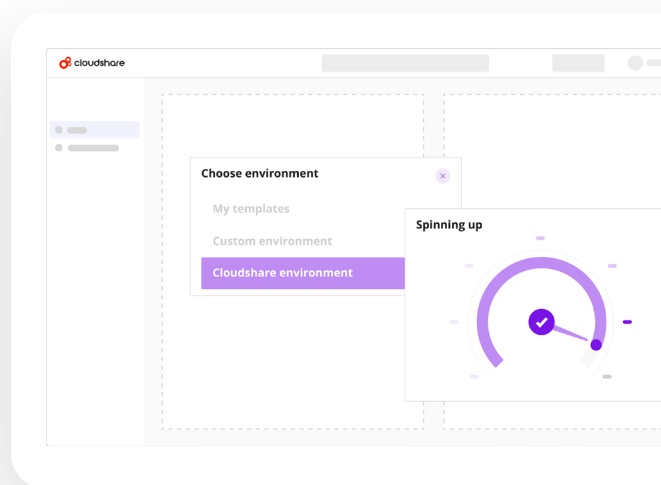

CloudShare's virtual IT labs solution lets you quickly spin up cloud-based environments for training programs and courses, that are wonderfully collaborative and totally hands-on.

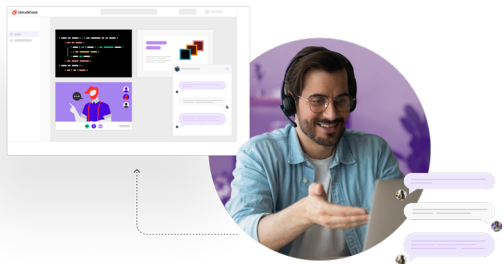

Take your learners from “eh?” to “ahhhh!”

Offer your learners a full interactive virtual playground that mimics real-life scenarios, helping them learn the ropes without the risks:

- Spin up training environments in literally minutes. (No coding, DevOps, or IT needed. For real.)
- Create fully-functioning replicas of end-user environments, from complex networking to nested virtualization.
- Track activity within the environment to monitor engagement and optimize your programs.

Equip your trainers and trainees with the tools they need to win

Deliver immersive, engaging experiences with live, over-the-shoulder training sessions and real-time chat.

Allow learners to progress at their own pace with flexible, on-demand environments.

We've got the receipts.... 🤖

Atlassian reduced its average class setup time from 1.5 hours to just 4 minutes (96% reduction), and sells twice as many recorded training courses bundled with CloudShare labs compared to live virtual classes.

CloudShare is a great environment for training. It allows me to view students' progress and offer help in real time.
